

CANNON MEETS INGLORIOUS DEFEAT

HOUSE ADOPTED NORRIS RESOLUTION ON RULES BY VOTE OF 192 TO 153

Insurgents Routed Cannonism Foot and Horse—Speaker Ready to Resign— Last Stand Was Dramatic

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The House today adopted the Norris resolution changing the committee on rules and eliminating Speaker Cannon from membership therein by a vote of 192 to 153.

CANNON STATES HE IS READY TO RESIGN

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Speaker Cannon announced this afternoon that he is ready to resign. He said, "actions, not words, determine men's conduct in the affairs of life. This is a government of majority, not of men. In the house the majority should have lower."

FINAL VOTE WAS LANDSLIDE FOR INSURGENTS

The victory of the insurgent Democratic allies over the regulars and Speaker Cannon was made complete today by the adoption of the Norris resolution. Many Republicans, seeing the defeat of Cannon coming, climbed aboard the band wagon and sought to overthrow the speaker. The resolution calls for the appointment of an enlarged rules committee, of which Cannon cannot be a member. The iron clad rule of the house czar, Cannon, which began seven years ago, is now broken.

The result of the final vote, after three preliminaries, showed alignment of strength and was a landslide for the insurgents. Many "near insurgents" apparently were forced by the magnitude of the movement to follow in the current and helped to heap water defeat by an unexpected majority on the man who has held the house in the hollow of his hand for seven long years.

The scene in the galleries when the end came is indescribable. Confusion reigned.

Details of the Fight

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Shortly after the house reconvened today Speaker Cannon sustained the point of order raised by Dalzell of Pennsylvania against the consideration of the Norris resolution providing for a change in the structure of the rules committee and the elimination of the speaker from membership on the committee.

The scene was dramatic when Speaker Cannon read his carefully prepared opinion on the question. On the marble platform, beneath the American flag, he faced an uproarious House and packed galleries, as he delivered his ruling sustaining Dalzell's point of order, holding that the Norris resolution was not in order. In sustaining the point of order he said:

"I am planting myself on the law"

King Edward Ill at Bairtitz of Bronchitis

LONDON, March 19.—That King Edward is seriously ill of bronchitis at Bairtitz is generally believed here today. FOUR QUILTS AS SECURITY

Peddler Couldn't Pay His Fine But He Left An Equivalent

John O'Donnell, peddler, peddled into the city marshal this morning, and was forced to pay a visit to City Recorder Willson.

O'Donnell was selling dress goods and quilts from house to house without first having obtained a license so to do. He called at the house of T. P. Marsh on South Main street, and on the porch he found City Marshal Edwards in conversation with Mr. Marsh.

O'Donnell pleaded guilty before the city recorder and was fined $10. O'Donnell had no coin, he said, but his offer to leave four bed quilts with the city recorder as security was accepted. He said he would return with the money later.

Death of Prof. Oakley Today In Los Angeles

Prof. Edward B. Oakley, principal of the Santa Ana High School, died this morning at 10 o'clock in Los Angeles. The cause of death was kidney and heart trouble. Funeral arrangements have been postponed until the arrival of his sister, Miss Oakley, from Seattle. She is expected to reach Los Angeles tomorrow afternoon. Details of the sad affair are meager, only phone messages having been received here.

The news of his death coming unexpectedly, as it did this forenoon, will prove a great shock to the people of this community, for while Prof. Oakley's illness was known to be serious it had been generally supposed that he was improving in health and would ultimately recover. Indeed, it was understood that he anticipated resuming his work in the high school after the spring vacation.

Santa Ana will deeply mourn the loss of so good a man and efficient an educator as Prof. Edward B. Oakley had proven himself. For almost eight years he has been identified with the high school of this place as principal and teacher, and in civic and reform movements he was a familiar figure. When he left here a few weeks ago for an enforced vacation on account of illness, little was it thought that he would never return alive. He was in the California Hospital at Los Angeles for a while, leaving there after the physician pronounced him on the road to recovery. With Mrs. Oakley he then located in apartments at No. 145 West Fifteenth street, where he was at the time of his death. Many of Prof. Oakley's people reside in Los Angeles, also Mrs. Oakley's family, so that Mrs. Oakley will be tenderly cared for in her hour of bereavement.

To this noble woman, beloved by everyone who knew her, will be extended from all of Santa Ana, deep and heartfelt sympathy in her great loss.

QUESTION OF WHOSE $100?

Event of Failure to Buy New Machine Was Not Considered

Martin Garage Claims It As Commission on Sale of Car

Who gets this $100? Justice Smithwick has an interesting case before him. It was submitted yesterday after the trial and argument. The plaintiff is Amos Cox and the defendant is the Martin Motor Car Co.

Last August Cox left a second hand Maxwell automobile with the Martin garage to be sold. There was an agreement that it should be sold for $1100. Of that amount the garage should keep $100 to be applied on a new $1650 Maxwell should Cox decide to buy the 1910 Maxwell when it came in and it was agreed that this Maxwell should be sold to Cox for $1500. There seems to have been nothing said as to what would come of that $100 in the event Cox did not buy the Maxwell.

At any rate the second-hand machine was sold for $1100, and the $100 was kept out.

The defense asserts that when the new Maxwell came in, one was offered Cox. He did not take it. In December, according to Cox's complaint, Cox demanded of the Martin Motor Car Co. that it deliver him a 1910 Maxwell for $1500. The delivery was not made and Cox bought a Maxwell from Hankey & Congdon for $1650.

That left the $100 in the hands of the Martin garage. Cox took the view that since it had not been applied on a new Maxwell, it rightfully belonged to him, that the sale of the old machine was made with a view to making a sale of a new Maxwell and that the $100 was not commission.

The Martin Motor Car Co. takes the view that the $100 is commission for the sale of the old car, and should remain with the garage.

S. S. Finley is attorney for the plaintiff and H. J. Forgy for the defendant.

COMPROMISES GALORE WERE PROPOSED ONLY TO BE FLATLY TURNED DOWN

Uncle Joe Refused Any Proposition That Eliminated Him—Final Struggle Fought on Floor of House

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 19.—As the hour for the reconvening of the house of Representatives drew near it was reported that a second conference between the allies and regulars concerning the Norris resolution had resulted in a failure to reach any compromise. Further conferences were held this morning but no peace agreement was reached before the house met.

The Cannon forces were heartened over the delay and they were considerably strengthened by the arrival of several additional regulars who were absent yesterday.

It was stated this morning that the allies had finally decided to abandon the plan for appointing members of the rules committee from different sections.

Martin (Republican, South Dakota) presented a resolution providing for a compromise on the basis of making the committee number ten, with an added clause providing that after the expiration of Cannon's term the Speaker would be ineligible to membership. Cannon rejected the compromise measure, declaring it offered an indignity to his position.

The attitude of the twelve insurgents who voted with the regulars for adjournment yesterday is causing much speculation, despite the fact that they declared themselves loyal to the insurgent forces today. The early prospect was that no amount of discussion among the war-

INTERVENORS ENTER HOLE VS. TAKEKAWA

Allege Option on Which Suit Brought Not Authorized by Them

Complaints in intervention have been filed in the county clerk's office in the suit of W. J. Hole against M. Takekawa. Hole is suing Takekawa to compel him to follow out an option given Hole on forty acres of land in La Habra. The intervenors, U. S. Kaneo and S. Inouye, assert that Takekawa had no right to give the option, in that they, too, were interested in the land, and they declare that the plaintiff should not have judgment by reason of alleged changes made in figures in the option. This case is separate from the case of Takekawa against Hole, following the trial of which Takekawa was arrested in this county for perjury, which charge was dismissed after the information was filed.

AUTHORIZED PUBLICATION

STATEMENT OF JAMES MC'FADDEN READ AT THE STOCKHOLDERS MEETING OF THE SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA SUGAR COMPANY

When it was first proposed to building a sugar factory in this vicinity, the question of cleanliness and how to secure sewage so as to guard against offensive odors was the one great difficulty we were called upon to meet. It is my opinion that if the full danger as I now see it, arising from faulty sewage, had been placed before the citizens of this community and fully discussed, the Delhi factory would not have been constructed, at least not within many miles of the town of Santa Ana.

I discussed this question personally with General Case, and he stated, and reiterated to me most emphatically, that he was very particular on the question of a clean and odorless factory, and that the factory he then controlled in St. Louis, Michigan, was free from any odors, and so attractive that the town was growing toward the factory, especially the better residences and everything would be done to make this factory odorless, so that it might be built even within the corporate limits of Santa Ana.

However, before the factory was located, I set to work to investigate this question, and either visited or secured information on the question of sewage from every factory south of San Francisco, except the one at Visalia. The only person with whom

I was connected in securing this information was Mr. James Irvine, and we concluded from such information as we could secure, that there were but two ways that the sewage from this factory could be disposed of without injury to the community; the one way to put it through a pipe line to the ocean, and the other one to use the sewage for irrigation. The former plan is probably impractical, on account of the cost. We decided that the latter was the most practical and feasible plan, and further decided to join in this plan, each taking part of the water, and securing, perhaps, such other assistance from adjoining land owners as might desire to join in the undertaking.

This plan we looked upon as a community interest, and particularly a factory interest, and supposed that it would meet the full co-operation of everyone, especially as those contracting to care for the sewage would probably be the only ones taking any risk in case of failure to absorb the sewage on the land in question, or allowing it to become objectionable. Especially would it be a factory interest, as every additional ton of beets grown through such method of irrigation would be a saving to the factory in the saving of railroad freight. It was, in our opinion, quite possible that a system of irrigation from this factory sewage and factory wells, if used in conjunction with the drainage district now organized, could in the course of a few years be the means of securing all, or nearly all, the beets by wagon haul that could be used by this factory.

In accordance with the above plan, agreed upon at an early date, Mr. Irvine, before leaving for the Orient, made a written proposition to the corporation to take the sewage water, the factory to deliver the same at a given point on his ranch, 2 1/2 miles distant from the factory, said point having an elevation of about twelve feet above the factory. A committee of directors was appointed to consider this offer of Mr. Irvine's, with the hope of consummating some agreement. It is now understood that the committee had some interviews with Mr. Krauss, Mr. Irvine's agent, while Mr. Irvine was absent. It seems that this committee and Mr. Krauss reached no agreement, or rather disagreed, as to who should be at the cost of laying this pipe line, etc., and the offer was withdrawn, at least until Mr. Irvine should return, and has ever since been a dead letter.

It should be distinctly understood that it never was contemplated that this system of caring for the sewage could be put into operation the first year. It was, however, agreed that provision should be made to run the sewage for the first campaign into the Bay of Newport through an open ditch, it being at that time expected that the Delhi Drainage District would be organized and have its main ditch completed through Mr. Irvine's property to the bay before the factory would commence operation. In this, however, we were disappointed, and as the time for operating the factory drew near, it was quite evident that the Delhi Drainage District could not sell its bonds in time to secure funds for this work, nor even until months after said factory should be opened.

To meet this dilemma, Mr. Krauss and myself agreed that we would each build a large shallow reservoir at the junction of Main street with the Newport Southern Pacific railroad, he to build such reservoir on the southeast side of the wagon road and Southern Pacific railroad, and I on the opposite side of the same; my reservoir to cover about 250 acres of land, and his to cover whatever it might be required to contain the balance of sewage that might flow from the factory, until the Delhi drainage ditch could be opened through the mesa to Newport Bay, at which time the water in these reservoirs was to be turned into said ditch. The factory was to build a ditch or flume on the west side of Main street, along the same, to a connection with said reservoirs, through which the sewage was expected to reach it, and it was understood that the lime water from the factory would be dumped into this ditch or flume at the factory with the factory water. I used this argument as an inducement to get Mr. Krauss, in Mr. Irvine's absence, to assent to this arrangement, he believing with myself that the lime would be a benefit to the kind of land intended to be covered by these reservoirs.

While the factory was preparing a ditch to carry the sewage to these reservoirs, and Mr. Krauss and myself were preparing the reservoirs, a Mr. Nicholson, the field man from the Bataravia factory, with whom I was acquainted visited me at my home. I took him over my place and over the valley, and, among other things, showed him the method by which we proposed to get rid of our sewage. Before leaving, he said that he felt it his duty to inform me that I was making a fatal mistake in undertaking to store sewage water in those reservoirs, for the reason that the factory water would, in five days after it left the factory, commence to smell, and that after ten days the odor would become very objectionable, and that after fourteen days it would become intolerable; and further, that the traveling public would, through the Board of Supervisors, be certain to close the factory. Mr. Nicholson gave me such convincing illustrations of these statements that I became alarmed over the situation, and went immediately to Los Alamitos to settle, if I could, the question whether or not Mr. Nicholson was correct. I also went that day to see Mr. Olmstead, consulting engineer of the American Beet Sugar Company, and received full confirmation of the statements Mr. Nicholson had made, both from Alamitos and from Mr. Olmstead.

On the following morning after receiving this information there was a directors' meeting, and I made a full statement of the information I had just received. The Case brothers denied my statement most emphatically, saying that the parties who gave me such information must be factory knockers. They stated emphatically, and reiterated the same, that this water from the factory, that I call sewage, contained nothing that did, or could, produce objectionable odors, and in proof of this statement, asserted that they were acquainted with a number of factories that run their sewage into settling ponds adjacent to gentlemen's residences, and that no objections were ever raised, etc. While listening to these statements, it became apparent to me that a majority of the board of directors sympathized with, or gave full credit to these statements made by Mr. Case, and in order to stop further discussion I announced that the sewage water from the factory could not run down along Main street or be disposed of in those reservoirs, and that the only way to get drainage for the factory sewage was to get behind the Drainage District with sufficient money to open their ditch through the Irvine property near Newport Bay, and thence north, following the proposed drainage ditch west of Main street, to an intersection with the Pacific Electric railroad one-half mile south of the factory, where the factory sewage could be carried to said ditch from the factory.

In order to hurry up the work so as not to delay the opening of the factory, I put my teams to work with plow and road scraper and V, and did most of the work myself from near the factory along the north side of the Pacific Electric Railroad, and through my property south, over one and one-half miles, to a connection with the work on the ditch let to contractors.

While I was thus engaged in assisting the factory all I could in meeting this dilemma, which had arisen through no fault of mine, I was presented with a deed for my signature for this drainage ditch, unlimited and unconditional, which I refused to sign unless it stipulated that it would not be used for factory sewage more than one year.

It was on or about this time, as I afterward learned, that the Case Brothers, or their friends, undertook to secure from the Pacific Electric Railway a permanent pipe line along their right-of-way to connect with said collateral ditch, for which they expected this unconditional deed would be given, and it was on learning that I refused to sign an unconditional deed that they took the streets, going from one business house in Santa Ana to another, denouncing me in language unbecoming gentlemen, threatening to stop work on the factory unless I sign said deed. It was at or about this time that Manager Case requested some of the officers of a neighboring factory to give me no information that I might seek.

It was this failure through this subterfuge to get an open ditch into which they expected to turn their factory sewage for all time that caused the first animosity on the part of the majority of the Directors. It was this question of cleanliness versus filth and foul odors that caused the parting of the way, and it was this attempt to make the Board of Directors believe, and the public believe, that I agreed to furnish the factory with a right-of-way for all time through my property through which they could convey their sewage from the factory with utter indifference about results, that made this parting of the way more divergent, and it is a remarkable fact that General Case still asserts, and offers to prove by his friends on the directorate, that I promised to give him such an unconditional and unlimited right-of-way for his sewage in an open ditch.

It has been demonstrated by every factory erected on this Southern Coast that water or sewage from the factory carried in an open ditch, where the fall is so slight as between the Delhi factory and the mesa, becomes in time an intolerable nuisance, not only to the adjoining property and settlers, but when the atmosphere is heavy and damp, a nuisance and an offense to the whole surrounding country. Sewage from a beet sugar factory in Southern California can only be properly cared for as above stated, by carrying it in a pipe line to the ocean or to where it can be placed on the ground in quantities not too great to be absorbed in, say in from three to five days from the time it leaves the factory. To do this in a safe and practical way requires a vast acreage under said pipe line, probably not less than five or six thousand acres, as but a small portion of this land can as a rule be used for the distribution of this water at the time it is necessary that the water be thus distributed from the factory. It can, therefore, easily be seen the amount of land required to care for this sewage in a manner that the land will absorb the same within three or five days from the time it is placed on the land. To undertake to care for this sewage with a few hundred acres of land is preposterous.

While this sewage is doubtless beneficial to the land in this section, the labor required to care for it in a manner to make it inoffensive will in all probability cost an amount equivalent to its value to the land, and will require the utmost care and a thorough system. It is possible that the plan to care for this large amount of water in this way without allowing the same to become inoffensive and an injury to the whole country was a mistake, but I believe that with care it can be done successfully, and if it can be done for a few years, it will gradually become easier and more safe as the area covered could be gradually enlarged.

One thing is quite certain, namely, that if this factory cannot be operated without contaminating the atmosphere with odors for miles around like factories that can be named, it would be infinitely better for the Santa Ana Valley that this factory be blotted out. No section of country occupied by homes like the Santa Ana Valley and the City of Santa Ana can afford to have these homes permeated by odors from factory sewage. As an illustration of this danger, I need only to refer to the condition of a large area of territory constipation permanently by proper personal co-operation with the beneficial effects of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, when required. The forming of regular habits is most important and while endeavoring to form them the assistance of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is most valuable, as it is the only laxative which acts without disturbing the natural functions and without debilitating and it is the one laxative which leaves the internal organs in a naturally healthy condition, thereby really aiding one in that way. To get its beneficial effects, buy the genuine manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is never classed by the well-informed with medicines which make extravagant and unfounded claims to cure habitual constipation without personal co-operation.

Death of Tustin Resident
P. W. Swartz, who departed this life Monday evening, was born in Pennsylvania, but went to Wisconsin with his parents when he was 14 years of age. There he grew to young manhood and met and won Miss Ann Roberts for his wife. They were married in 1862 and they have always been as happy during their married life as they were on the wedding day. To this union were born three children, Messrs. Charley and Harvey Swartz both of El Toro and Mrs. W. A. Davis of Los Angeles. These little ones came to brighten their home when they still lived in Wisconsin.

After a few years they moved to Nebraska as pioneers, where they lived until nineteen years ago when they moved to Orange county. Most of their time was spent at ranching on the San Joaquin ranch until the health of Mr. Swartz grew so poorly they were compelled to move to Tustin, in which place they have both made many friends, though the same may be said of them everywhere they have lived. These friends will mourn the loss of a true and staunch companion who would inconvenience himself to help his friends. He was a devoted husband and father. He was the last of a family of six. The funeral was held this afternoon at the home. The many beautiful flowers signified the esteem and respect he bore among his associates. Interment was held at the Santa Ana cemetery.

The friends and relatives who attended the funeral from afar were Mr. and Mrs. John James, Mr. and Mrs. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Kouwen-Hoven, Miss Ruth Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Judge Sunny, Mr. and Mrs. John Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hill, Mrs. Charles Allbee of Los Angeles, Mrs. Evans of Garvanza, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Beach and Mr. and Mrs. David Bryan of Long Beach.

Wedding Anniversary Surprise
About forty-five of the relatives, friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sharp came in upon the couple to help them celebrate their wedding anniversary. The affair was planned by the sister, Mrs. Brookbank, and was a complete success as everyone but the innocent parties knew about it and surprisingly kept still. The wedding anniversary was celebrated very enjoyably as there were readings given by Mr. Earnest Phillips and music rendered by different members of the jolly crowd.

After delicious refreshments were served, and the hour was late, the guests departed for their homes, many

A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as a savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with overwork. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, dependent, frequent headaches, pain or distress in "small of back," gnawing or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea, or "rises" in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will relieve you more promptly or surely than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot bread and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to it as until you are vigorous and strong.

The "Discovery" is a non-secret, non-alcoholic, is a glyceric extract of native medicinal roots with a full list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Its ingredients are endorsed and extolled by the most eminent medical writers of the age and are recommended to cure the diseases for which it is advised.

Don't accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION.

were the good wishes and hearty congratulations given for the couple, who were married in Waterloo, Iowa.

RECTIFYING MISTAKES

The Attitude of the Electric Company

No business organization in this city is more anxious to retain the good will of the public than the electric company. We depend upon the people of this community for the right to exist. We cannot maintain this right unless at least the majority of citizens feel friendly toward us.

We desire to stand as well with the people as we possibly can. If the reader felt this situation as keenly as we do, he could not charge us with intentional errors, indifference, neglect or discourtesy.

In any business affecting a large number of people some mistakes and some misunderstandings will occur. We think anyone will realize this upon thoughtful consideration.

We do not seek to escape criticism—rather we expect it as part of our daily routine. But we ask that the consumer thoughtfully consider the way in which we try to correct errors instead of the mistakes themselves.

We prefer to have complaints made to our office immediately rather than to have a dissatisfied patron, or one who concludes we do not care what kind of service he receives and tells other people about it.

Complaints do not always mean mistakes on our part, but our policy is to investigate each instance reported for the purpose of applying quick and permanent relief.

The rules for our employees command courtesy and willingness to repair grievances, not as a favor to the consumer, but as the consumer's right. We believe our employees live up to the rules. If they do not, we want to know it.

THE KNOX "CUT-OFF"

It now becomes necessary for an appreciative public to take an interest in the troubles of our secretary of state. His recent son, having married the girl of his choice rather than that of his father he is now unceremoniously "cut off" with the meager allowance of one hundred dollars a month. It might be remarked, however, in passing that there are other chaps who would be glad of being "cut off" at that rate, but that is neither here nor there, so far as the Knoxes are concerned.

The point that he is "cut-off" at all for exercising the great American privilege of choosing his life-partner. And here it might again be remarked that there are plenty of young fellows who are denied the chance of doing this, not on account of any objections on the part of the "old folks," but because of the stubbornness of the girl herself. The point is this: The Knox's ought to be proud that their young hopeful has gained the consent of the girl, and quit this cutting off business. From all accounts she is a good looking and smart and what more do they want? The chances are ten to one that she is too good for him.

WARNING FOR 'FRISCO

Will San Francisco take warning? The policy of the mayor of that city of turning all the departments of government into political bureaus, including the fire department, brings a threat from the fire companies to raise the rates of insurance. This comes right home to the pockets of a lot of people who would be unable to see a less palpable outrage, and who would not be moved by this one did it not speak in thunder tones of cash.

Under the plea of economy, politicians frequently accomplish things that the taxpayers have to pay dearly for, but it is generally done in an indirect way that hides the hand that takes the dollars, revealing only the one that gives cents. In this way the taxpayers are victimized by those skilled in the game, but McCarthy is evidently a bungler and is caught red-handed. It is probable that a fuss will be made about this particular case while others equally objectionable but less apparent will go without comment.

SLIPPED A COG

The Lincoln-Roosevelters are markedly inconsistent at times. One of their stock arguments has been that the old convention plan is "not representative." Yet nineteen members of the party named get together and nominate a candidate for governor! We fall to see how nineteen men can be more "representative" than 500 or 600.—Long Beach Telegram.

When did nineteen members nominate a candidate for governor? It is the general impression that about 19,000 or 190,000 Republicans will nominate the party's candidate at the primary election next August. Or is the Telegram admitting that Johnson is so certain of nomination at the primaries that the "nominations" of Anderson, Curry and Stanton by nine or nineteen "regulars" don't count?

Hiram W. Johnson's platform is broad and strong—one upon which all Republicans may stand with head erect and chest expanded. As the California Weekly puts it, "There is no dodging the issue he presents. Anderson cannot sidestep it. Curry cannot circumvent it. Stanton cannot ride it down. The issue is, Bond or Free, Government by the People or by the Political Bureau of the Southern Pacific company. Line up, Men of California! Under which banner?"

SAID ABOUT CANDIDATES

Orange Post: Carl L. Conway of Oranges announces himself as a candidate for the office of county treasurer, subject to the decision of the Republican primaries. Mr. Conway is well and favorably known at Orange and will doubtless secure a strong following throughout the county. He has the requisite knowledge of bookkeeping and business methods and is strictly reliable.

Orange Post: J. C. Lamb, county tax collector, is a candidate for nomination to the same office on the Republican ticket. The office was won three years ago against what in the beginning looked like hopeless odds, but with honorable work and the hearty support of many friends all over the county he was successful in one of the hardest, yet one of the cleanest, fights of the campaign. The work of the office, a great part of the time under most discouraging conditions, has been carefully and conscientiously performed and always in the interest of the taxpayer, protecting him in every way possible. Those who have visited the office have been accommodated as quickly as possible and have been given the respectful attention which they have a right to expect. Those who have transacted their business through the mail have received prompt return on remittances and courteous replies to all inquiries. The books of the office are neatly and correctly kept and have always been found in perfect balance when expeted. That the people appreciate the efficient and painstaking manner in which the office has been conducted during the present term is plainly evident and it is not likely that they will make a change in the office. Up to the present time no one else has expressed an intention of "trying" for this office and in all probability there will be no opponent in the Republican primaries.

Fullerton News: County Clerk W. B. Williams makes announcement in the News this week of his candidacy for the office of county clerk, an office which he acceptably fills at the present time. Mr. Williams has but one competitor in the field, and at this writing it looks as though it would be easy sailing for him. He has filled the position one term, and as one good term deserves another, we can see no reason why he should not be continued in the office. He has proven himself to be especially qualified for the position.

Orange Post: L. A. West, who announces himself as a candidate for nomination to the office of district attorney, is a well known attorney of Santa Ana. He says it is his intention to make a clean and courteous, though vigorous, campaign. If elected, he will give the county fearless, unbiased and competent service. Whether elected or defeated he expects to end the campaign with more friends than he had when he commenced it.

Huntington Beach News: It will be good news to his many friends in this county to be told that Col. O. H. Coulter of Santa Ana and Laguna Beach has consented to become a candidate for the lower house of the California legislature. Col. Coulter has every qualification for the office and besides his long and honorable record as a soldier has his life as a private citizen to commend him to the voters of Orange county. Not only because of his reputation but from personal acquaintance, the editor of this paper is glad to have the opportunity of testifying to the entire fitness of Colonel Coulter to represent the county of Orange in the state legislature. He is a man of high character and sterling worth, of fine ability and attainments and would be a worthy representative, if elected.

surrounding the Los Alamitos Factory. Take the electric cars for Los Angeles any foggy morning, or when the atmosphere is heavy, when said factory is in operation, and you will meet the odors in the vicinity of Bendict, and these odors will keep you intimate company for several miles. Or take a trip through the country in the vicinity of the Alamitos factory, and you will find no desirable homes. The little town of Alamitos, although something over 15 years old, has not one comfortable, desirable house for a family residence, and no desirable buildings of any kind, although the factory is one of the most profitable in the United States, and pays its employees good salaries. No man who cares for the comfort of his family will spend much money on a home where factory odors permeate the atmosphere during sleeping hours, and it is mostly at night or in the morning before the atmosphere becomes light and before the ocean breeze sets in that this odor is so objectionable. It should be remembered that there are two distinct elements in the value of land in Southern California: The one the home element, the other the productive element. The land in the vicinity of the Los Alamitos factory has a productive value, notwithstanding those objectionable odors, and it can be rented to men without families, or to foreigners, on a basis of its productive value, but it has no home value, for no man would purchase these lands with a view of erecting desirable buildings on the same, on which to move his family to make a permanent home. Were it not for these facts, these Alamitos lands, which will produce fifteen or twenty tons of beets per acre, would sell for double the price they now bring under existing conditions, and to put this community on a par with Alamitos would certainly have the effect of reducing the value of real estate about one-half.

At the time the Board of Directors violated their contract with me, "that no pulp should be stored on the property donated to the Southern California Sugar Company," this depreciation of property was fully discussed, and I then stated to the Directors that if this contract with me was to be violated, or if the factory sewage was not to be properly cared for, I considered that I would be injured to the extent of at least $50,000.00, yet my statement was treated with indifference and the contract was violated in defiance of a notice that I then gave the Board of Directors.

The contamination of the atmosphere with foul odors for miles around in a thickly settled community of desirable homes, and in the immediate vicinity of Santa Ana, is too serious a matter to treat with indifference. Poverty with pure air and cleanliness is better than luxury with foul air and filth.

Besides giving almost a year of my time to the Southern California Sugar Company in the promotion of this enterprise, I invested in gifts and stock at least $15,000.00. I did this work and made these investments in good faith, believing the enterprise was in the interests of this town and community. Notwithstanding this investment, I consider my allegiance to the interests of this community paramount to the interests of this factory wherever the two interests may conflict, and if the stockholders of this factory who have interests in this community differ with me in this view, I am ready to resign from this Directorate.

There is much discussion and agitation in this community and among stockholders about pending litigation, and whatever the loss to the stockholders may prove to be, from the failure of Case, Hinz & Company to carry out their contract, yet this loss is but a myth compared with the injury this community will suffer if the atmosphere is allowed to become contaminated with the odors of this factory sewage, and the adjoining and surrounding country to suffer damage and become undesirable for ownership in small tracts for homes, thus retarding the growth and improvement of Santa Ana and its environment.

After having given so much of my time and means in the efforts to secure the erection of this factory and in getting the Pacific Electric Railroad so located that it might reach both factory and Huntington Beach, and after having been compelled through the absence of President Irvine during the first year of the incorporation of the Company to spend still more time, I have been charged with selfish and dishonest motives, and constantly stigmatized by the management in terms unfit to repeat in this meeting or elsewhere. It is asking too much to expect me now to submit to such indignities without that resentment that self-respect demands. It is due to this Board of Directors to say that up to the first of March last year, when F. B. Case began his employment in the corporation as Manager, there had been nothing but harmony on the part of Directors, and such a thing as imputing dishonest or dishonorable motives to any member of this Board was not thought of.

As intimated above, the care for and absorption of this factory sewage on adjoining lands is a community interest. In order to succeed, the management of the factory must cooperate in harmony with those who may undertake to care for and absorb said sewage on lands wherever available, without injury to the community by foul odors, and as such undertaking, partly at least, is experimental, any agreement made may need readjusting in order to protect the interests of all concerned in any emergency that may arise. Therefore, confidence, good faith and harmony on the part of every person to such an agreement as above outlined, is absolutely essential.

Judging from the past and present vindictive and malicious attitude of the parties in control of this corporation toward me, and from their indifference in the matter of foul odors, I believe that if I should enter into any such agreement with them as at first contemplated by Mr. Irvine and myself, or if in any way should place myself at the mercy of this corporation, my rights and interests would be jeopardized and would receive no consideration whatever, and I would thus be compelled to resort to the courts for protection. Knowing these conditions, I do not propose to put myself in a position to suffer loss or be caused further trouble. I regret that these conditions exist, but know of no remedy within my power.

Church Notices

A Million Souls for Christ

Korea is in the midst of an evangelistic campaign, which is stirring the country to the center, and which may well astonish the world. On the 9th of October, 1909, the general council of Korean Missionaries, assembled in Seoul, decided to pray and work for a million converts in Korea in a year's time. The million movement was born of faith and much prayer, and it is by faith and prayer that it is being carried forward. When Dr. Chapman and Alexander, the world-famous evangelists, were in Korea they became so enthusiastic over the movement that they set aside two weeks for special prayer, and the missionaries are now asking Christians throughout the world to unite with them and with the Korean church for a great outpouring of God's spirit upon the land.

Sunday, March 20, will be observed everywhere as a day of prayer for Korea. It is desired that each church and Sabbath school, as well as the Christian individuals of Santa Ana, shall assist in this great and solemn petition, that God may grant salvation to one million souls in Korea during this year.

Headache from Eye Strain

Eye strain causes more headache than all other causes combined. Many people, especially those studying hard in school, are suffering from headache or a "heavy feeling" in the brow, and do not realize that the cause is a defect or weakness in the eyes. Such cases can be cured with glasses that will correct the error in the eyes.

HOW TO GET FAT

Use Samose, Says the Rowley Drug Co., and Put on Good Flesh

—The almost universal interest in physical culture is the best evidence that can be offered as to the need of a simple and scientific method of making thin people fat, increasing strength and restoring health.

Athletics, when carried to an extreme, often result in straining the vital organs. How much better it would be for the average person to regain health, strength and flesh by using Samose. This flesh forming food is assimilated as soon as it enters the stomach; it helps the organs to assimilate the food and extract the flesh forming elements; it builds up the muscles and rounds out the limbs into shapely plumpness.

Samose has been so successful in making thin people fat and restoring the weak and run down to strength and health that the Rowley Drug Co., the popular druggists, sell it under their personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not benefit.

Orange, Cal., March 15, 1909. J. C. Williams & Son.

Dear Sir:—Regarding the Sanders Orchard Disc Plow, will say that the honest truth is, that if I could not get one for less, running an orchard as I am, I would give its weight in silver before I would be without it. I would consider it a good business proposition.

ESCAPED FROM BURNING HOUSE

Explosion of Gasoline Tank Starts Fire That Destroys Grove House

Screen Cut and Small Boy is Dragged Out by Party of Rescuers

GARDEN GROVE, March 19.—A small house owned by Mr. Fowler and occupied by Pearl Dutcher and family, was burned last night about 7:30 o'clock, the entire contents being destroyed. There was no insurance.

The fire was caused by the explosion of a gasoline tank, the gasoline igniting from a torch Mrs. Dutcher had lighted before the tank was covered. Mrs. Dutcher had several painful burns, but none of her injuries are serious.

One of the children, a small boy, narrowly escaped being burned, as he was in a small room where the screen door was locked. The men working to subdue the fire, tore the screen wire off and got the youngster out.

All the family had narrow escapes from the burning house.

THE KANSAS TIN SHOP

is watching that fight going on in Philadelphia—with good deal of interest.

We know how it feels to have the combines and associations come down on us because we have been there, have been living right there for the past six or seven years, and now, because we will not join in with the plumbers combine, known as the "Master Plumbers Association," there are but three wholesale houses (handling plumbers goods) that dare sell us the goods we need in our business. The rest of them are afraid our "friends the enemy" will boycott them if they sell us plumbing material. Bah! Those associations have driven a good many men out of business and have promised to do us up—sometime—but we are still here and "doin' biznis" at the old stand.

We don't have any quarrel with union or non-union men. We don't have time, that's what the matter.

We notice that the preachers and some other parties in Philadelphia demand that the street railways in that town "arbitrate," which means that the independent workmen shall quit his job or join the union.

The railway company says "nothin' doin'" and the Kansas Tin Shop says they are right.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

The first carload of Mexican Bermuda onions of the season, arrived on the local market yesterday morning. The onions were in excellent condition and were soon disposed of at a good price. There was practically no change in prices of fruits and vegetables, and, with a few exceptions, there was but little demand. Shipments of strawberries are getting heavier and an especially large shipment is expected today. The apple market is getting better and there was considerable demand for this fruit at the various houses yesterday.

The egg market was firm at prices quoted and there was a much better demand than the day previous. Local and northern case-count were most in demand. Prices were unchanged. Arrivals for the day were 531 cases.

Butter receipts were 29,116 pounds. There was little demand and but few scattered sales were reported. Cooking butter was offered at 22, but not taken at that price.

Cheese was rather weak and there were but few calls. Northern fresh, eastern twins and longhorns and Edam were all offered, but the only demand was for eastern Daisy and imported Swiss. Cheese arrivals were 2377 pounds.

Potato receipts were 938 sacks. Highlands were most in demand and several sales were made.

Onion arrivals were 978 sacks, the first to arrive for a couple of days. There is a large supply on hand and several scattered sales were made during the day.

There was a good supply of fish in the market yesterday morning and all varieties sold well.

BUSHARD PUTS IN AN ANSWER

Says Riverside House Was Rented for $10 a Month and Not $12

The defendant in an Anaheim suit brought on the ground of misrepresentation in a realty deal, today filed an answer in the Superior court setting forth the defendant's side of the case. The action was brought by R. E. Coffman against L. W. Bushard.

Coffman traded a Riverside house for a house at Goldfield. In his complaint, Coffman alleged he found the Goldfield house unrented and not what was represented. Bushard in his answer declares he had never visited the Goldfield property, and that the Riverside house, instead of renting for $12 a month, rented for $10. H. V. Weisel is attorney for the defendant.

Rain

OLD NEWPORT, March 18.—The storm which has been threatening for a week or more seems to have passed by on the other side. Everyone hopes for it, looks for it, needs it, except this district, over which the flood swept, leaving it so wet that it is just now in good condition for working. And the rain, which would be so beneficial to outlying districts, would mean a detriment to this one.

"A TRIAL IS ONLY A GAME"
(From Commonwealth Club, San Francisco.)

President Taft said in his Chicago speech of September 16, 1909:

"There is another defect of our procedure. No criminal is content with a judgment of the court below, and well may he not be, because the record of reversals is so great as to encourage it in every case and to hold important judgments in appellate procedure sometimes for years. I don't know when the reforms are to be brought about in this country. Until our people shall become fully aware and in some concrete way be made to suffer from the escape of criminals from judgment the system may continue."

The trial here is a game in which the advantage is with the criminal, and if he wins he seems to have the sympathy of the public."

—The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

In Accord

George was convalescent but George was by no means amiable. He grumbled at his soup; he grumbled at his pillow; he grumbled at his "view;" he grumbled at Mrs. George.

"Do be quiet!" snapped Mrs. George. But George went on grumbling.

"I declare," exclaimed Mrs. George petulantly, "you're the very worst patient I've ever tended. I'd rather have the whole family down with scarlet fever than you with a cold in your head!"

"Well," growled George, "for once we're in agreement! So would I!"

made for this House by Speaker Randall. I am appealing from the passion of this day to the justice and reasoning of that."

At the conclusion of the Speaker's remarks, Representative Gaines moved an adjournment. The motion was lost by a big majority. Then Norris made his appeal and Dalzell moved that the appeal be laid on the table. Dalzell was defeated in the vote that followed.

At 11:45 o'clock roll call was ordered on Dalzell's point of order, which also was a motion to lay the Norris resolution on the table. Norris sprang to his feet and appealed from the decision of the chair. A motion to lay the Norris appeal from Cannon's ruling on the table, was defeated by a vote of 181 to 164.

The motion of Norris ordering the presentation of the previous question, thus shutting off debate on the motion to lay his resolution on the table, was carried by a vote of 186 to 160. Immediately after the announcement of the vote, the roll call began to decide whether the decision of Cannon in blocking the Norris resolution shall be considered as the decision of the House.

After several clashes on the preliminary motions, the allies late today brought the attack upon Cannon to a crisis. The last preliminary was the overruling of the speaker's decision on the Norris resolution by a vote of one hundred and eighty-two to one hundred and sixty. This vote revealed several insurgent recruits.

Olmstead took the chair and ordered the clerk to read the Norris resolution. Norris then took the floor and declared his willingness to substitute for his plan the measure offered by Martin during the early conference, increasing the rules committee to ten and eliminating the speaker. It provides that the new rules will go into effect within ten days from their adoption.

Norris asked Dalzell if he would agree to three hours debate before the final question was brought, each faction to be limited to half that time. Dalzell acquiesced, but Redenburg of Illinois objected and no agreement being reached Champ Clark, the house minority leader, was given the first opportunity to speak. Norris yielded to him.

How to Fasten Hair Bows
Little girls often have their hair "bobbed," and the mothers or nurses who must tie on the large bows are often puzzled as to how to fasten these large bows to the small wisp of hair. Here is a very good arrangement which overcomes the difficulty and at the same time preserves the ornamental bow without necessitating retying it each day. Make the large bow and sew a strip of stout baby ribbon of the same color underneath. Wind the narrow ribbon around the hair several times, tie in a tight bow-knot and it will hold nicely.

The Immensity of Space
A photographic plate exposed to the heavens in a large telescope for any considerable length of time shows nothing but a continuous blur of light, indicating that the photographic eye sees beyond the realm of human vision such a multitude of suns that every part of space is filled. One may gain some inkling of the immensity of space by supposing the photographic plate exposed upon the remotest star it now records and looking out still farther to find the heavens still crowded with millions and millions of suns, each possibly having its own planets.

The house was all paid for. Mother was exultant, jubilant, reiterative. "Say, mother," burst out six-year-old Paul eagerly, "print it on your cards, mother, print it on your cards!"—De lineator.

TO STOVE BUYERS

There must be reasons why Garlands have been for years the most popular and extensively sold stoves on the market. Ask your neighbors or go into every corner of Orange county and ask the other fellow's neighbors, hear their story and then you will know, and it will be easier for you to decide what to buy yourself. Money is hard to get and when we spend it we should spend it well. Stove money is best spent when put into a Garland, and no cook stove fits the conditions of this vicinity like our Pacific Garland six hole cast range. Sold on trial. See us also for Garland Gas stoves, small cooks, or medium price stoves.

Santa Ana Hardware Co.

OUR interests are mutual—
The best thing we can give you is the best for you to buy and for us to see that you get. If we were not certain that the clothes we handle were the best you can get for your money we couldn't afford to ask you to buy them.

Sophomore Clothes

are all wool and the workmanship both inside and out has been done as much by hand as possible. These features add to both the wearing and shape retaining qualities of a suit. In addition to the superior workmanship you will find the lines to the garments—the style and fit are vastly different from ordinary ready to wear clothes. The broad concave shoulders and full chests, will give your figure that swagger effect so much desired.

These Fine Hand Tailored
Suits $15.00 and $18.00.
